

Memorandum

TO: State Board Members

FROM: Allen Norfleet, Director
Division of Candidacy and Campaign Finance

DATE: January 22, 2026

SUBJECT: Title 13 Waiver of late filing fees standards

Enclosed are the waiver requests, which were submitted by campaign committees that have been assessed late filing fees. The attached Waiver Request Information Page contains an overview of each committee as well as the Administrator's recommendation for Board approval on granting a waiver request.

In the past the Board has considered the following facts in determining whether just cause exists to grant a waiver.

- ☐ Administrative error of any kind on the part of the Division.
- ☐ The lateness is due to extenuating circumstances, i.e. physical illness or death in the family.
- ☐ The late report is the first late report and allows the committee to close, or contains minimal financial activity.
- ☐ The fee will cause undue financial hardship, if the liability of the fine is the personal responsibility of the officers.
- ☐ Computer problems occurred which made timely filing impossible. However, the filer still must have demonstrated a good faith effort to timely file.

Prior to the meeting please review each waiver request. Note the recommendations that you may disagree with or have questions on that you would like to discuss.

Pursuant to Election Law Article §13-337 (b) (3), the State Administrator has denied one waiver request. No Board action is required on the denials. As of January 14, 2026 SBE has collected $4,353.00 in late fees year to date. SBE collected $4,353.00 for the month of January in late fees.

Please feel free to contact me at 410-269-2856 if you have any questions.

Hello Erin,

Thank you so much for working on this issue and following up. Per our discussion, I never filed to run in Prince George's Co. special election. I had to change my account "Friends of Mahasin El-Amin" in order to file as the filing requirement.

I'm kindly asking for the selection to be removed from my account to reflect that I'm running in the gubernatorial election. I am not asking for my account to be closed. It's should remain open.

Please let me know if you have any questions. It would be greatly appreciated if you would kindly confirm receipt to make sure I got the right email.

Once again THANK YOU!!!!

Sincerely,

Mahasin El Amin

Good morning,

Thank you for speaking with me earlier this year. I appreciate the time and guidance you provided.

Since that conversation, I have closed out all of the reports and made repeated efforts to correct any issues with my account, despite not having access to certain information that was previously maintained by my former campaign manager. I have worked in good faith to reconstruct the records and address the reporting issues to the best of my ability.

Most recently, reports were flagged as being in error. I believe it is because the final numbers reflect a negative balance. I used personal funds to cover outstanding campaign expenses when the campaign account was in default, including the remaining balance owed for campaign signs. The negative figure reflects a use of personal funds rather than unreported activity, and there were no outstanding obligations at the close of the reporting period.

I submitted a final waiver request, but I haven't received any notification or update about its status. Assistance in confirming receipt of the waiver request and understanding when I might expect a response would be greatly appreciated. I am providing a copy of what I sent as a request for waiver below: APPEAL OF LATE FILING PENALTY

Submitted by: Kayce Munyeneh, Candidate for Prince George's County Council, District 5

To the Honorable Members of the Board of Elections:

I respectfully submit this appeal requesting reconsideration and removal of the late filing penalties assessed against my campaign committee. While I acknowledge the importance of timely and accurate reporting, I believe the unique and extraordinary circumstances of my situation warrant relief. The delays in my filings were not due to disregard, negligence, or an attempt to conceal information. Rather, they were the result of simultaneous, unavoidable, and severe disruptions that would have compromised any committee's ability to meet reporting deadlines—especially one operating with limited volunteer support.

From September 2024 through May 2025, my campaign experienced an unprecedented series of challenges that directly affected our compliance capacity. These disruptions included: (1) the necessity of initiating litigation involving the Town of Bladensburg/Cheverly, (2) the sudden overseas deployment of my treasurer, a military service member, and (3) the unexpected resignation of my campaign manager, who was the only individual with full access and working knowledge of the reporting system. Each event had a direct, documented impact on the committee's ability to complete, reconcile, and submit reports on time.

1. Ongoing Litigation Demands Significantly Disrupted My Capacity to Manage Administrative Tasks

During this period, I was required to initiate legal action involving the Town of Bladensburg (Cheverly), a matter that demanded substantial time, energy, and attention. As the first Black Mayor of Cheverly and someone who has always prioritized legal compliance and transparency in government, this situation placed me under intense pressure.

The litigation process required:

- Extensive document gathering
- Meetings with counsel
- Detailed review of historical records
- Multiple filings and responses
- Public scrutiny and community engagement

These demands occurred concurrently with the campaign filing period. As a local elected executive and active candidate, I had no administrative staff to absorb this workload. The legal obligations substantially diminished the time and focus I could dedicate to troubleshooting campaign reporting disruptions, especially after losing key personnel.

2. Treasurer's Unplanned Overseas Military Deployment

My campaign treasurer is an active-duty member of the United States military. In early 2025, he was unexpectedly deployed overseas, leaving the country without sufficient notice to complete handoff procedures or maintain consistent communication. His absence created immediate and unavoidable obstacles:

- He solely handled financial reconciliation.
- He alone held certain passcodes and internal tracking sheets.
- His deployment limited his availability due to time zone changes, restricted communications, and operational duties.

Given the nature of military service, there was no reasonable way to prevent or mitigate this disruption. This circumstance was completely outside of my control, and I acted in good faith to reassign responsibilities as quickly as possible. However, replacing a treasurer mid-cycle is a complex administrative process that itself caused delays.

3. Abrupt Resignation of Campaign Manager With Exclusive Access to Reporting System

Compounding these issues, my campaign manager—who had sole working knowledge of the reporting platform and maintained the organized log of expenditures—quit unexpectedly. He did so while retaining the only detailed understanding of how the reports were being structured, categorized, and prepared.

His resignation created several barriers:

- He did not provide a transition plan.
- He did not leave behind written documentation.
- He held exclusive access credentials and was responsible for maintaining the expenditure spreadsheet.
- He alone knew the order, categorization, and reconciliation method for receipts and transactions.

This placed me in a position where I had to re-create from scratch a reporting structure that was already underway, without the benefit of his institutional knowledge.

I made diligent efforts to recover access, reconstruct data, and bring new volunteers up to speed. However, campaign finance reporting is detail-intensive, and improper or rushed submission could result in errors that themselves violate regulations. I chose accuracy over speed while simultaneously managing litigation, governance, and parenting responsibilities—all while preparing for a special election cycle.

4. Demonstrated Good Faith, No Intent to Conceal, and Immediate Corrective Action

Despite the obstacles described above, I worked diligently to rectify the situation as soon as it became administratively feasible. Once I regained access and reconstructed the necessary information, I submitted all required filings. There is no evidence of:

- Missing funds
- Concealed expenditures
- Improper contributions
- Intentional delay

The lateness was purely procedural and caused by circumstances beyond my control.

Additionally:

- All financial records were maintained.
- All expenditures were legitimate and documented.
- The reporting delays did not impede the public's right to transparency.

My record as an elected official underscores my respect for public accountability and ethical governance. I have never had compliance issues in any previous cycles.

5. The Standard Applied Should Consider Reasonableness and Equity Under Extraordinary Circumstances

Maryland election regulations recognize that penalties should not punish candidates who make good-faith efforts under extenuating circumstances. The Board has discretion to waive or reduce fines when:

- The delay is not intentional
- The circumstances are beyond the candidate's control
- The candidate acts promptly upon regaining capacity
- There is no harm to the public trust

This case meets all of these conditions.

Between litigation pressures, the military deployment of my treasurer, and the resignation of my campaign manager—the only person who had full access to the reporting data system—my committee operated under conditions not reasonably foreseeable or preventable.

I respectfully request that the Board waive the penalties associated with my late filings. My delays were the direct result of overlapping and uncontrollable circumstances that severely hindered administrative capacity. Throughout this period, I remained committed to transparency, actively preserved all financial records, and worked in good faith to submit complete and accurate reports as soon as possible.

I appreciate the Board's understanding and consideration. My service as a public official has always been rooted in integrity, and I take compliance obligations seriously. I ask that you recognize the unique challenges I faced and grant relief accordingly.

Respectfully submitted,
Kayce Munyeneh

At this time, I am unable to log into MDCRIS, which is preventing me from correcting any filing errors.

I respectfully request assistance with:

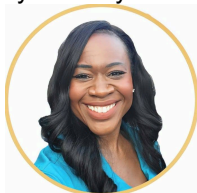

- Restoring my access to MDCRIS;
- Guidance on how the negative balance should be properly reflected, given the circumstances; and
- Directions on how to proceed with the outstanding fines while the waiver request is pending.

I used a significant amount of my personal funds to support my campaign, and do not currently have the ability to pay the remaining $4,000 in fines in full. If payment plans or other interim options are available, I would be grateful for guidance on how to proceed.

Thank you for your time and assistance. I appreciate your help in resolving this matter and bringing the account into full compliance.

Warm regards,

Kayce Munyeneh
